Response to Amendment

Applicant's arguments filed April 21, 2003, have been fully considered but they are not deemed to be persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., "the transformer is adjustable to control the amount pressure amplification flowing therethrough. The transformer may include a port plate or port barrel to control pressure amplification...a hydraulic motor includes an output shaft 44 coupled to a hydraulic load 24 and is selectively adjustable to provide the output shaft with a desired rotational speed and or torque" (e.g. page 6 last line to page 7 line 6)) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Double Patenting

Claims 9 and 13 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claim 8 of copending Application No. 09/870,921. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all of the claimed limitations of the instant invention are included in claim 8 of the copending application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Claims 1-10 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Glas. Fig. 9 shows two motors (205, 205') connected to the transformer.

Claims 1-3 and 8-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Satzler.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Kux.

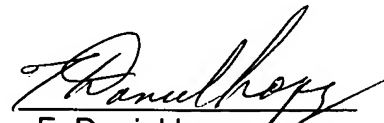

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
